A GREAT SCHEME

Plans of the Atlantic and Mexican Gulf Canal Company.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The Post says: A syndicate is in process of formation to carry out the plans of the Atlantic and Mexican Gulf Canal company, which received fresh charters this year from the legislatures of Georgia and Florida, together with grants of valuable lands and water power. The charters were issued to Gov. Gen. A. Drew of Florida and his associates, among whom are Gov. Bloxham of Florida, Gen. R. Tompkins of Georgia and Col. [illegible] of the Georgia Central railway.

Alexander Curtis of Georgia, secretary, is now in this city on business connected with the organization of the syndicate. Curtis to-day gave an account of the company's project to the following effect: The route of the proposed canal has been surveyed [illegible] and assistant engineers of the United States engineers under a resolution of congress directing measures to ascertain [illegible] transportation from the mouth of St. Mary's river, on the Atlantic [illegible] Suwannee, [illegible] state of Florida, to the Gulf of Mexico.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 30.—The Press to-morrow will publish a secret circular issued by the general officers of the Knights of Labor, in which the following are the principal points of general interest. The address opens with reference to [illegible] appeals [illegible] for funds to assist victimized and locked out members in various parts of the country and to the unsatisfactory response which left many thousand members who were thrown upon the hands of the order by the lockout [illegible] the power and usefulness of the order. Powderly then says the order has reached the most critical period in its history. He refers to the contract which employes were made to sign compelling them to leave the K. of L. [illegible] Every man who has joined the K. of L. [illegible] to do his duty to the cause [illegible] No oaths bind him to any act contrary to the duty he owes to God or his country. [illegible] nothing more sacred even than an oath. [illegible] of honor—binds him to loyally defend principles of truth, honor, justice and citizenship. Two alternatives present themselves. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Blaine [illegible] It is said that [illegible] since his return to Washington has [illegible] with whom he has talked over the affair and through whom he has sent a message to Blaine indicating his wish to be reconciled. It is related that Edmunds, among other things, said: "I am not inclined at my age to hold malice towards any man. I have a [illegible] to think [illegible] and I don't want to be involved in a controversy [illegible] with any man. You may say as much to Blaine from me. I never at any time said [illegible] believed that Blaine was intentionally guilty of a dishonorable act or of a dishonorable deed. [illegible]

THE DISTRIBUTION OF THE NAVAL CONTRACTS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The [illegible] says editorially: With the assignment of the new cruiser Charleston to San Francisco, the Baltimore to Philadelphia and one of the gunboats to Baltimore, the government secures the advantage of [illegible] works started at three important places instead of being confined to a single yard as in [illegible] The money which the government is to lay out on ships, forts and guns within the next ten years will amount to scores, possibly hundreds of millions. While the lowest responsible bid will take the contract in each instance, there are various advantages in distributing widely the government's industrial patronage and also in securing [illegible] sources of relief in many quarters.

Carter Cotton Leaves Debts Aggregating $30,000, Partially Secured.

DENVER, Oct. 30.—The News, speaking of the reported absconding of Carter Cotton, says: Rumors became current upon the streets late last night that Carter Cotton, manager of the North Poudre Land and Canal company, and also an extensive real estate operator of Fort Collins, had absconded and left debts to a large amount. A statement of facts as learned from a gentleman of high standing in financial circles of Northern Colorado is that for some weeks past Mr. Carter Cotton's numerous creditors have been becoming uneasy and were suspicious of his movements and transactions. A week ago Thursday a number of them corralled him in his office. After some talk Mr. Carter Cotton made a pretext to go out, locked his creditors in, and has not since been seen in or about Fort Collins. The creditors got out by climbing over a transom. How Carter Cotton got away is not known. Next day he was seen in Denver and here all traces of him ceased.

This same gentleman, in connection with another prominent financier of this city, gave a reporter the following statement in regard to Carter Cotton's financial operations. They said that Cotton issued bonds on the North Poudre canal and 10,000 [illegible] of land, amounting to $[illegible],000. The Travelers' Insurance company took $50,000. These bonds and the other $100,000 are held by various New England parties. In addition he has borrowed on the stock of the canal $[illegible],000. He has also negotiated loans of $[illegible] on real estate mortgages [illegible] in the neighborhood of $[illegible] on [illegible] from Hayden & Dickinson of this city. DENVER, Nov. 30.—The following letter was addressed to President Cleveland to-day:

[illegible] Nov. 30, 1886.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 1, 1886.

AGENT COFFEY AND THE CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Mr. Munly's reply to the article in THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN on Agent Coffey's relations with church and state at the Umatilla reservation did not meet, and indeed only remotely touched, the matter in question. It was a reply in most general terms, attempted for the purpose of asserting that obedience to the Roman Catholic church can in no way bring the citizen into conflict with his duty and allegiance to the state. In this exposition the case of Mr. Coffey is not considered at all. On the contrary, it is purposely avoided. Yet it was the very case under consideration, the very instance that afforded a pregnant local illustration of the statements to which Mr. Munly attempts a reply.

The fact appears to be that Mr. Coffey found himself under the necessity of disregarding his instructions and duty as an official of the United States, or of disobeying the authority of the priesthood of his church in the administration of his office. He preferred obedience to the former rather than to the latter,—as a wise man should,—and the authorities of the church promptly responded by pronouncing against him the decree of excommunication. He is not an obedient son of the church, because, in the conduct of his office he has not obeyed her mandates, but has preferred to adhere to his own conceptions of duty, and to follow the instructions of his superior officer at Washington.

This is the statement that comes to THE OREGONIAN. Is it correct, or incorrect? If incorrect it will be easy for those who procured the decree of excommunication to show it; if correct, it presents a simple and concrete fact, and there is no need of long and labored articles, written in general terms, in defense of any theoretical view of the relations of church and state under the Roman Catholic polity.

It is the desire of THE OREGONIAN neither to "misunderstand" nor "misrepresent" the Catholic church. When it has occasion to mention this church or anything pertaining to its doctrines or polity, it wants to be as correct in its statements as when it talks of anything else under the sun. It is true, probably, that the Roman Catholic church is not well understood in America. That church is an exotic here, as in most countries where the Teutonic, Anglo-Teutonic and Anglo-American races predominate. In particular, it is not perfectly at home among American ideas. There is a spirit of independence here, a want of reverence for infallible authority, that gives the priesthood and dignitaries of the Catholic church much uneasiness and concern. The free habit of inquiry and criticism among us causes the claims, doctrines, policies and tendencies of the Catholic church to be examined and criticised quite as freely as those of any other church, or any other body of doctrine or opinion, whether ecclesiastical, social or political; and the Catholic church, since it claims infallibility as sole repository of truth on all subjects covered by its doctrines, is naturally restive under this treatment. Every remark that implies doubt is unfriendly; every criticism is misrepresentation. We Americans, the mass of us, know nothing about an infallible doctrine, or an infallible teacher of an infallible doctrine; and on the other hand an infallible church finds more or less friction in its contact with such people. This is said with intention of perfect and respectful tolerance; for this too is an American idea and an American duty. But it is not surprising that in such circumstances the Catholic church does not quite understand the American mind, or conversely, that the American mind does not quite understand the Catholic church.

The school question is not "entirely aside from this discussion." The hostile attitude of the Catholic church toward the American free school that seeks to make every man an intelligent citizen, while it leaves it to his church to make him an intelligent Catholic or Protestant, is a notorious illustration of the interference of the Catholic church with the policy of the state. In 1885 Pope Leo the XIII. issued a letter denouncing non-sectarian schools. This letter has been so strictly obeyed in its admonitions that the Catholic clergy in Cambridge, Charleston, throughout Western Massachusetts, and at the West, have caused serious dissensions in their flocks by trying to enforce the views of the pope. The vicar-general of New Mexico a few years ago undertook to carry these views into politics and divert the school fund to the support of the Catholic parochial school, denouncing as "infamous" our free school system. The same proposition was urged in 1873 in New York city; and in Buffalo in 1878 the proposition to take the public money and apply it to the support of parochial schools was pressed upon the common council, who voted it down, twenty to four. In his recent pastoral letter Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, orders that wherever there is a Catholic church and resident pastor, within two years, except only in cases of extreme difficulty, of which the bishop shall be the judge, a Catholic school shall be established. "All Catholic parents are bound to send their children to the parochial schools." The effect of this order would be the practical division of the public schools in all large cities and manufacturing towns east and west. The public schools at the public cost would educate the children of those who believe in secular education, and schools maintained at private cost would educate the children of Roman Catholics. Then would come a demand on the part of the Catholics for a division of the school money. The Catholic church, by leaving no freedom of choice to its communicants, whether they will go to the public or the church schools, lifts its hand against the secular popular education which we consider the bulwark of our liberties. The ecclesiastical arm is practically lifted against the state when it directly "addresses" the Roman Catholic citizen and indirectly the state, in its effort to uproot the free school with the church school. The question is not whether the Catholic church rules well or ill, but whether the American public school, limited to secular education, including good morals, leaving religious or sectarian education to the church, the Sunday school or the home, shall be robbed of its opportunity to educate the people to be good citizens by the interference of the ecclesiastical arm which substitutes for them a school whose mission is to make them good Catholics. The Catholic system of education, by division of school money, prevails in Ireland, and nearly all the schools are controlled by clergymen and chiefly by Roman Catholics, and Mr. Playfair once said in the British parliament that the system fails completely because it is almost wholly clerical. Nearly half the people of the Catholic counties in Ireland cannot read or write. For thirty years this denominational system has prevailed and it has proved, according to the general confession of the Irish members of parliament, "a complete failure," because it is occupied not with teaching secular education that fits pupils for citizenship and the business of the world, but with the enunciation of creed, legend and dogma; and to this condition the Catholic church, the pope and the Catholic clergy would reduce us by substituting the sectarian or parish school for the free common school founded by law and fostered by the state for its own protection and safety. We are not afraid of the clergy carrying out their purpose, for there are too many devout Catholics who say with Alexander Pope and Daniel O'Connell, "I am not a papist, for I denounce the invasions of the papal power and detest their arrogated authority on princes and states; but I am a Catholic in the strictest sense of the word."

HIGHLY AMUSING.

The Louisville Courier-Journal, speaking in behalf of the democratic party, continues to lament, in terms of pathetic vigor, that the president is under control of mugwump ideas. It is not even satisfied with the Benton-Stone episode, as an indication that the president is willing to accept in full the doctrine that to the victors belong the spoils; and it calls the mugwumps many hard names for having beguiled the president away from his party. They are "political dandies and dudes," they are representatives of "political pharisaism" and "benevolent milksoppery;" they are setting up "an irresponsible, monarchical system of bureaucracy, consonant to a treasonable conservatism." In a special mention of the Massachusetts mugwumps the great organ of democracy calls them, in contempt, the "milkmaids of a little civil service dairy in Boston." All this undoubtedly is a genuine expression of average democratic feeling, and it is mighty amusing. Moreover, it is made more amusing still by the appeal of the great democratic organ to Mr. Blaine, entreating him to step forth as a champion of the democratic partisan idea and save the country from mugwumpery, civil service reform and Grover Cleveland. The democratic party, we may infer, is not happy.

THE EDMUNDS-BLAINE INCIDENT.

All Eastern papers have comments on the fact that Mr. Blaine refused the hand of Mr. Edmunds at the Arthur funeral. The incident has not been reported by all the papers in the same way; but according to reports apparently the most trustworthy, Mr. Edmunds extended his hand, saying, "Good morning, Mr. Blaine," and the latter recognized the greeting only by a stiff bow, refusing to take the proffered hand. The Chicago Tribune, a strong Blaine paper, comments on the incident in this way:

> So far as the mere question of etiquette is concerned, it may be observed that general handshaking and other displays of effusive cordiality are not customary in the presence of the dead, and even friends when in the house of mourning usually greet each other, if at all, only with a slight bow of recognition. It seems rather remarkable therefore, that Edmunds should seize such an occasion for a demonstration of pretended cordiality towards a man he had so recently calumniated and insulted—a display wholly inappropriate and hypocritical to the last degree. A funeral was no place for such a performance. Mr. Edmunds violated the proprieties in thrusting his offensive hypocrisy on Mr. Blaine at such a time, and he received from the latter only the treatment demanded by self-respect.
> Edmunds has been an implacable, backbiting enemy of Blaine for years, and has even repudiated party obligations in order to satisfy his malice. Within a fortnight Edmunds has caused to be published a letter in which he assails Mr. Blaine with studied insults, and proves that for years past he (Edmunds) has lost no opportunity to stab Blaine in the back and libel him in public and in private. Had Mr. Blaine accepted and returned Edmunds's greeting every mugwump paper in the country would have denounced the act as one of servile hypocrisy on Blaine's part, and cited it as proof that Blaine in his eagerness to become president was willing to humble himself before his defamer, instead of resenting an insult as became a man. Was it in the hope of producing such a scene that Edmunds ventured at Arthur's funeral to extend a pharisaical greeting he would not have dared offer Mr. Blaine elsewhere? Did he think Mr. Blaine was at last in a position where he could not resent an insult, but might be compelled to act the hypocrite before his libeler? Did Edmunds expect to furnish the mugwump press another text? Such seems to be the only explanation of his unseemly conduct, but to his discomfiture he found Mr. Blaine still able to reject the insult in the only manner the circumstances permitted and to preserve his self respect by refusing to imitate the hypocrisy of his defamer. Edmunds richly deserved the rebuke he received, and under the circumstances Mr. Blaine was fully justified in administering it precisely as he did.

The San Francisco Bulletin says the administration has "got back to the starting point" on the civil service question, namely, that "to the victors belong the spoils." This, it argues, is the outcome of the proceedings in the Benton-Stone cases. Says the Bulletin: "We then get at this fact: It is not an infraction of civil service reform and the order of the president to make speeches in a campaign, provided they are democratic speeches and abound in praise of the administration. The democrat in office may bloviate for his party to his heart's content. But the republican must keep silent or be removed." The Bulletin adds: "The theory of government which is here propounded is just as proscriptive in the political sense as that upheld by Jackson and expounded by Marcy."

A Swiss engineer named Beycler, who was for a time employed on the Panama canal, has just published a statement in regard to the undertaking. He says that of the 150,000,000 cubic meters to be excavated only 16,000,000 had been removed up to a recent date, while the expense has exceeded $107,000,000. There have been seven different general directors in charge of the work since June, 1882. The cost of the completed canal Mr. Beycler estimates at $600,000,000, or five times more than the estimate of Mr. Lesseps, a sum which would forbid the hope that the enterprise will pay any reasonable return upon the investment. It will require not less than ten years to complete the work. Beycler professes to be very friendly to the enterprise.

In the New York directory there are 201 columns filled with names of the O's, Macs, Murphys and Sullivans; in the Philadelphia directory 210 columns, in the Boston directory 132 columns, and in the Chicago directory 112 columns. Where these names most prevail will always be found the largest Celtic population. According to the Chicago Citizen the result shows that Philadelphia is absolutely and that Boston is relatively the most Celtic of American cities.

After all, the legislature of Washington territory contains a republican majority. This fact will defeat sundry democratic calculations, and may cause further postponement of the erection of the territory into a state.

THE ADMINISTRATION AND THE CIVIL SERVICE.

St. Paul Pioneer Press.

The outworks of civil service reform were deserted to the enemy when Mr. Cleveland, early in his administration, permitted the offices in several states to be turned over virtually to the spoilsmen managers of his party, and reorganized the civil service commission in such a way that that body has become a nonentity, never mentioned except with contempt. The rescinding of the executive order suspending District Attorney Benton marks a probable determination to surrender the citadel. The explanation which Mr. Cleveland offers is simply puerile. Since Mr. Benton's assurance that he did not neglect his duties is accepted as a sufficient excuse for his violation of an explicit order it is clear that a like assurance from any other official will have the same effect. Mr. Benton was not reinstated for any such absurd reason as that.

There is a larger and more interesting explanation which accounts for his surrender. Mr. Cleveland has at last been forced to meet the dilemma which has faced him ever since he took his oath of office. Day by day the unalterable hatred of his party for everything looking toward the reform of the civil service has grown deeper and more vindictive. The president's wish was to consult expediency only. He desired to please the reformers by professing their doctrines. He desired to satisfy his party by relinquishing to it slowly and secretly that complete control of patronage which it demanded. The "very hungry and very thirsty" would not accept even the show of compromise. Half his term had expired when the exigencies of a congressional election brought the pressure to the point of explosion. The disappointment over popular reverses has given the president's critics a power which they were prepared to use. At last he was compelled to choose between relinquishment of even the pretense of a regard for reform or the open and bitter enmity of practically the whole democratic party. For the rest of his term, to say nothing of the future, either he must give way to the united spoils-hunting democracy, or he must stand absolutely deserted by all save the mugwump remnant.

Not Greater than his Party.

Chicago Inter-Ocean.

To Mr. Benton, district attorney for Missouri, belongs the honor of having finally dissipated the president's intentions or pretentions of civil service reform. Mr. Cleveland has made full and final confession of the truth of the old saw which has it that no man is greater than his party. Whether Mr. Cleveland really wished to be greater than his party, whether he really believed himself to be the child of destiny who was born to strike the spoils system to death, or whether he merely palavered in a goody-goody style to please the mugwumps, it is now needless to inquire. The mossbacks openly own him now, henceforth and forever. Missouri has said to him, "Do this and thou shalt have the state delegation at the next convention; do it not and it shall be against thee." He did Missouri's bidding. He is now South Carolina's to command. And Tennessee's and Virginia's also. He will sing the song of Curtis and the mugwumps no more.

NEWS BY CABLE.

An Early Meeting of Parliament Expected.

MR. DILLON APPEARS IN COURT.

A Prize Fighter Weakens at the Last Moment—The Cholera Epidemic in South America—Notes from European Capitals.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—T. P. O'Connor sent the following cablegram from London to the Star: A well informed members of the lower house believe that an early meeting of parliament will take place. In spite of the opposition of some of the leading supporters of the government the cabinet are drifting so rapidly down the road to severe coercive policy, and are subject to such heavy pressure, that old parliamentary hands say it is difficult to see how they can avoid calling parliament together, to demand special powers. In doing so they will be backed by the entire landlord interest, English as well as Irish, and an overwhelming majority of the dissentient liberals. In the meantime, tory members, led by the Standard, are opposed to the meeting of parliament earlier than usual and are working hard to induce the ministry to reverse their decision, drop coercion and shelve the Irish question, leaving the Irish administration to carry on the government of the country as well as they can without repressive measures, and keep matters quiet at almost any cost.

JOHN DILLON IN COURT.

DUBLIN, Nov. 30.—The cause of the government against John Dillon came up for hearing to-day before the court of the queen's bench. Dillon appeared, accompanied by Lord Mayor Sullivan and Messrs. Healey and Sexton. Great crowds surrounded the building, and the court room and corridors were packed. Dillon was greeted with tremendous cheering by the people when he arrived and his passage into court was amid enthusiastic applause. Healey, on behalf of Dillon, applied for an adjournment of the hearing. He said he had only been instructed as to the nature of the crown's complaint last night, and as the crown's affidavits were exceedingly voluminous, the defense would require time to properly study them. The counsel for the government made no opposition to Healey's request and the hearing was adjourned until December 11 next.

DILLON DEFIANT.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The temper of the people has not improved by the prosecution of Dillon and the proclamation of land league meetings. Speaking on Lord Clanricarde's estate yesterday, Dillon made even a more defiant speech than before, ridiculing the fifty manuscript pages of the summons which the government caused to be placed in his hands. After exhorting the tenants to persevere, and telling them they had big fish to deal with, he said in conclusion: "Whatever they may do to me, and I don't think they are going to do very much, it will be a long day and a tough struggle before they can get a penny of rent from Clanricarde's estate again."

GEN. BULLER'S NEW OFFICE.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—It is semi-officially announced that Gen. Sir Redvers Buller, who has accepted the office of under secretary for Ireland, will return to the war office in the early part of March and resume his duties as deputy adjutant general. His services will be required in Ireland only while the department is being reorganized. The under secretary will in future occupy a seat in the commons.

HOME RULERS WILL UNITE.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The British Home Rule association and the Home Rule Association of the United Kingdom, will amalgamate under the name of the Home Rule union, and support a single ticket in future elections for the purpose of assisting the Irish people in obtaining their rights of local self-government. A conference of the two associations is called for December 9.

ENGLAND.

WEAKENED AT THE LAST MOMENT.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Knifton, who was to have fought a prize fight with bare knuckles to a finish with Jem Smith in Paris to-day, for the heavy weight championship of England and heavy stakes, backed out at the last moment and refused to go the battleground. The men had been in active and close training for several weeks, and the interest taken in the event was widespread and intense. The amount of money up in wagers was large. Last evening, all the preliminaries having been satisfactorily arranged, a train load of prominent sports and aristocrats went to Paris to witness the battle. The only reason Knifton gave for his conduct was that he found that the number of Smith's adherents who would attend the fight was so much greater than the number of his own friends that he feared he would be unable to sustain fair play, and so concluded to abandon the contract, which he felt convinced would be hopeless under the circumstances.

AN AGED CONVERT TO CATHOLICISM.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Cardinal Manning has ordained into the Roman Catholic priesthood Lord Charles Thynne, aged 73 years, and formerly a canon in the established church.

FRANCE WANTS AN ANSWER.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The French ambassador has asked the Earl of Iddesleigh, foreign secretary, for a definite reply to France's interrogatory respecting the Suez canal.

AN AMERICAN MAY BE NOMINATED.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The Standard says it is seriously proposed at Sofia to nominate an American as candidate for the Bulgarian throne.

SOUTH AMERICA.

THE CHOLERA EPIDEMIC.

BUENOS AYRES, (via Galveston), Nov. 30.—In the lunatic asylum here cholera cases average ten daily, while among the inhabitants of the city the victims have not exceeded eight on any day. At Rosario the condition has somewhat improved. There were only twenty eight new cases and fourteen deaths yesterday. In the city of Cordova, center of communication between Buenos Ayres and the upper provinces, a procession comprising 15,000 persons passed through the streets yesterday, carrying images of saints and praying for a cessation of the epidemic. There were twelve new cases and five deaths in the city yesterday, and the population is greatly alarmed.

THE NEW MINISTRY.

SANTIAGO DE CHILE, (via Galveston), Nov. 30.—The new ministry is not yet definitely formed, but is expected to be arranged this afternoon.

FRANCE.

SENT ON A FOOL'S ERRAND.

PARIS, Nov. 30.—The municipal council has deputed M. Chassaing to visit the Italian faster Merlatti, for the purpose of ascertaining if the abstinence from food endangers his life.

RUSSIA DOES NOT INSIST.

PARIS, Nov. 30.—It is announced here that Russia does not insist on the selection of Prince Nicholas of Mingrelia as candidate for the Bulgarian throne.

A TREATY OF COMMERCE.

PARIS, Nov. 30.—France and Mexico have concluded a treaty of commerce.

AFRICA.

INAUGURATION OF A CABLE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—In a dispatch to the department of state the United States consul at St. Paul de Loanda, Africa, says that the inauguration of the west African cable, connecting St. Paul de Loanda with Europe, took place on the anniversary of the birthday of the king of Portugal, September 28, in the presence of the governor and many other notables. It was also intended, in about sixteen days, to inaugurate the royal trans-African railway, running from St. Paul to Ambaca.

GERMANY.

THE SOCIALIST MOVEMENT.

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—The annual report on the state of Berlin has been presented to the reichstag. It describes the socialist movement among the workingmen as still lively and tending more and more to a radical and extreme direction, which gives it a very provocative character. Hamburg and Altona are the chief centers of the movement.

CANADA.

A CATTLE KING WANTS TO CROSS THE LINE.

OTTAWA, Nov. 30.—Morton Frewen, cattle king, had an interview to-day with officials of the department of the interior. He proposes to remove his stock from the United States and bring 10,000 head of cattle into Canada next spring, if satisfactory arrangements in regard to grazing territory can be made with the Canadian government.

CLEVELAND'S "RUDENESS."

New York Letter to Cincinnati Enquirer, dem.

Sitting at a table about which several persons had gathered around, a gentleman who has been an Albany newspaper correspondent to-day volunteered some information which will be interesting reading in the West. Said he:

"Cleveland has reduced insult and rudeness to an art. He has hurt the feelings of everybody who was attached to him. There was Mr. Smith, the law partner of Smith Weed. Smith, in the last campaign for Cleveland, was at the head of the executive committee of the democratic state committee; the executive committee did the work, and Smith was about all there was of it. He worked like an Indian on the war trail, and got out the vote to carry New York state, which was the hardest kind of work. He received the appointment of third assistant secretary of the treasury. Considering that he knew Cleveland very well, he went up to see him one day on behalf of the chief man in the Manitoba railroad. This was a friend of Smith. The Manitoba railroad is a double line from St. Paul, Minn., into the Winnipeg country of Canada. It has extensive lands, and is a great property. Some legislation of an important character was wanted for the road, and Mr. Smith went up to see Cleveland, and asked him to be good enough to sign the bill on behalf of his friend. "He is your friend, is he?" said Cleveland, with a most tyrannical look, "then I'll veto the bill." He did veto the bill, and Smith resigned, and the man gives him $30,000 a year to be counsel of the company, not so much because he needs him, as to show that there are different men in this world to appreciate an obligation from Grover Cleveland."

Everybody around the table, to whom I harkened was a democrat, and not one voice was raised for the president.

No trouble to show goods. Goods sent to any address on receipt of money or [illegible] references.

"Facts are stubborn things" and "Figures don't lie." These are gray-haired proverbs, but will apply to many things relating to everyday routine business. In saying a few words to the public and our customers, we wish to impress upon them these facts, to wit: That we are now carrying a complete line of Fall and Winter Suits for the aged, the man of mature years, down to the inevitable small boy. In OVERCOATS we can accommodate all sizes at all prices, and here we invite special attention, as this year's stock is surpassingly fine and appropriate to the season. In Hats and Caps we aim to supply all wants with the best manufactures. In the PATTERNS we carry the Latest Designs for the special benefit of a class who prefer our Cutter to look after their needs. He is turning out something daily that will please the wearer. Our force is the usual courteous and competent set of clerks who know the class of goods the buyer most requires and are ready to fill orders. Figures we don't publish. You can be satisfied on that point at the outset in purchasing.

TWO VERDICTS FOR INSURANCE.—The case of Elizabeth Stapleton vs. the Oakland Home Insurance company on trial in the United States circuit court was brought to a termination yesterday and resulted in the jury rendering a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $1166, being the full amount of the policy sued upon, with interest up to date. James Gleason and Rene m Smith were counsel for the plaintiff and Richard Williams and J. J. Willis for the insurance company. Immediately after the jury in that case had retired for deliberation the case of Ladd & Tilton against the [illegible] Insurance company was called [illegible] action was for the sum of $1500 upon a policy of insurance issued by the company to [illegible] Stafler [illegible] by him assigned to the plaintiffs as collateral security upon a loan obtained by him from them. The defenses interposed by the company to the policy were that the building had been fired by the insured, that the proofs furnished by [illegible] were informal, defective and not in accordance with the provisions of the policy that [illegible] a condition in the policy [illegible] did such [illegible] existed at the [illegible] to the [illegible] being [illegible] for no such permit was [illegible] the policy also [illegible] that if any change of ownership [illegible] in the property the [illegible] and such fact was not reported to the company and its written permission obtained to [illegible] that the sheriff had [illegible] property under insurance and had taken it into his possession [illegible] the writ of attachment upon the property was such a change of possession as to render the policy void; that the property was insured for the sum of $1500 and was not of greater value than $1500. The plaintiffs denied the allegations of the answer; the case was submitted to the jury at [illegible] o'clock, and a verdict rendered in favor of the plaintiffs for the sum of $1750—the amount of the policy and interest [illegible] In this latter case the plaintiffs were represented by James Gleason and Messrs. [illegible] Woods, and the defendants by the same counsel as in the other case.

THE NARROW GAUGE AND THE CITY LEVEE.—It looks as if the Portland & Willamette Valley railroad will secure the public levee by paying for it. The supreme court said so Monday in the case of the railroad against the city. When the case came up for hearing in the state circuit court the city demurred on the ground first, that the legislative act of 1885 attempting to give the levee to the railroad company, was void for the reason that it attempted to appropriate property for purposes inconsistent with the dedication of said property to the public as a public levee and landing place; second that the act did not provide for proceedings in condemnation. Judge Smith sustained the second point in the demurrer and dismissed the [illegible] The supreme court Monday reversed this [decision] and referred the case back for further proceedings. The next step will be for the city to file an answer and try the case on its merits. The point to be decided is how much property interest the city has in the levee and what compensation the railway company is required to make before it is entitled to take it for depot purposes.

THE MANCIEL PROPERTY TO BE SOLD.—Judge Catlin yesterday made an order in the Manciel case—that real estate be sold to satisfy mortgage. It will be remembered John Irving the [illegible] petitioned to sell this property since [illegible] and the heirs objected and asked that [illegible] be put under bonds for the faithful performance of his trust. The county court required him to give bonds and the case was appealed to the state circuit court. It was decided he need not give bonds, and the question as to the sale of the property was remanded back to the county court [illegible] this decision. The property to be sold consists of the St George hotel and contents and the lots [illegible] known as lots 1 and 2 block [illegible] some [illegible] acres in Tibbetts's addition [illegible] East Portland. He [illegible] in his petition he [illegible] money advanced and [illegible] by the county court November 4 1885 and B. Vertier was [illegible] by a mortgage on [illegible] city of Portland. One [illegible] the other for $4000.

DOMESTIC TROUBLE.—Late last night police[men] [illegible] found James Marshall and his wife raising quite a disturbance on First street between B and C. Mrs Marshall who had a child in her arms remarked to her husband [illegible] "I will take the baby and jump into the river." The officers thought it time to interfere and taking Mr and Mrs Marshall in charge, conveyed them to the city hall and booked them for disorderly conduct. The woman with her baby was furnished quarters in the front room, the best in the [illegible] there is [illegible] hand was thrown in with the [illegible] boarders. Marshall is a longshoreman but works only occasionally. On the evening of the [illegible] Marshall got on one of his tantrums and proceeded to smash up all the furniture in the house where he lives on East Park street near [illegible] He was arrested and sentenced to ten days imprisonment but his wife begged him off.

THIEF ARRESTED.—Mention was made yesterday of the larceny of several coats and two pairs of pantaloons, one pair being stolen from in front of [illegible] Lambert's clothing store on First street near Madison. Yesterday noon policeman Holland witnessed a young husky looking tramp named John Carroll trying to sell the trousers stolen from Gumbert's to a second hand dealer at Yamhill and Front streets. He placed Carroll under arrest and on arriving with him at the station booked him for larceny. Carroll applied to and was furnished with lodgings at the city jail Monday night. He then stated that he came here from Denver, Colorado, and tramped it from Pocatello. This was about 9 o'clock and the pantaloons were stolen about an hour before.

A BOY AND A HATCHET.—The little son of J J Jennings, who was missing Monday night, returned home about 8 o'clock yesterday morning. He said that on Monday evening he saw a boy take a hatchet out of his father's door yard and that he started in pursuit of the thief and followed him away out on the west side road about three miles. When the bad boy reached his home, and threw the hatchet down young Jennings picked it up and started for home. Coming to a high trestle he was afraid to cross in the dark, so went to a house near by and asked for lodgings. He walked home in the morning bringing the hatchet on his shoulder as conclusive proof of his truthfulness.

SUIT AGAINST A COMMISSION HOUSE.—W F Mulhollan has brought suit in Justice Tuttle's court against K S Larsen & Co to recover $21. Plaintiff alleges that August last the Oregon Fruit Packing company left 200 cases or 400 dozen cans of Bartlett pears of the value of $600 with Larsen & Co to be sold on commission, proceeds payable in sixty days; that $33 is a reasonable commission and would leave a balance of $567, but that but $550 was returned therefor. It is claimed $17 is still due. The defendants have not had their say yet, but it is probable there is a dispute as to the value of the goods left for sale.

ARRESTS.—The following arrests were made by the police during the month: Drunks 108, trespass 8, vagrancy 17, disorderly conduct 15, fighting [illegible] permitting minors in saloons 3, assault 1 [illegible] larceny 5, abusive language 4, roaming the streets after hours 10, soliciting prostitution [illegible] soliciting for hotel without license 1, disturbing the peace 1, obtaining money under false pretenses 1, threatening to kill 1, gathering swill at [illegible] assault with dangerous weapon 1 [illegible] selling liquor without license 1 [illegible] burglary 1, smoking opium and gambling 1. Total arrests 210.

OREGON CHRISTMAS CARDS.—At the book and music store of Wiley B. Allen, 211 First street, is something entirely new in the way of Christmas cards and souvenirs. These cards embrace the scenery on the Columbia river, views of Mount Hood gleaming in the distance and the city of Portland on the banks of the glimmering Willamette. The cards are very attractive and just the thing to send to [illegible] friends and relatives the [illegible] time greeting from Oregon. [illegible] nothing [illegible] in the East as one of the Oregon cards.

PROGRESS ON THE OREGON PACIFIC.—The [illegible] was [illegible] this [illegible] from [illegible] to the Santiam river west of Albany. On Monday the graders moved camp to the [illegible] east of Albany where [illegible] the work [illegible] to be done. The dirt from the cut through the grove will be transported to the town and used for filling in the high grade on the river which will probably be [illegible] for the rails before the bridge across the Willamette will admit the passage of trains. The bridge, it is believed, will be completed soon after the beginning of the new year.

REAL ESTATE ATTACHED.—In the suit of D F Thompson vs. Ben Holladay to recover $1100 Sheriff Jordan has attached lot 8 block 3 Couch addition and lot 6 block 148 city of Portland. In the case of H A Hogue vs J A Dooley the sheriff has attached lot 2 block 7 Carter's addition, East Portland. In the case of M F Culver vs. Charles and Susan Cox the south half of lot 10 block [illegible] Albina, and in the suit of G H Page vs. [illegible] and wife lot 1 block 108 Portland.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.—Judge Deady will announce a decision in this court this morning on the application of the Pacific Coast Cable Telephone company for leave to set its poles on the right of way of the Oregon & California railroad company.

CHANGE OF DOCKS.—The landing of the steamer Telephone has been removed from Morrison to Alder street dock, north side.

THE BRIDGE INJUNCTION.

Status of the Proceedings in the United States Court.

Legal Points in a Matter that was Supposed to be out of Control of the Federal Courts—The Former Injunction Suit.

A great deal of surprise was expressed yesterday at the news published in THE OREGONIAN that an injunction suit had been commenced against the Morrison street bridge in the United States circuit court. The public was under the impression that the injunction suit brought several years ago by Hatch had been dismissed and the injunction removed and that the United States supreme court had rendered a decision early this year which covered all the points raised in the Hatch case. The decision was in a California case and the United States supreme court held in effect that a state had authority over the navigable waters which were wholly within such state.

Based on this decision a petition was presented to Judge Deady last May by the Willamette Iron Bridge company asking for the removal or modification of the injunction against the Morrison street bridge or for some express authority or permission by means of which the company could proceed with its work. On the 26th of May last Judge Deady delivered an oral opinion, of which the following are extracts:

The court acted upon the theory that the bridge as it was proposed to be constructed was an obstruction to the navigation of the river in violation of the second section of the act of congress admitting this state into the Union and following the ruling in the case of the state of Pennsylvania vs the Wheeling Bridge company, 13 How. and decided that it had jurisdiction of the case. The bridge was considered upon the testimony and in the judgment of the court to be an unwarrantable obstruction to the navigation of the river and its construction was enjoined. No appeal was taken from this decree. Afterwards a bill of review was allowed and an effort was made to have the decree set aside, but the court maintained its opinion and dismissed the bill. From this decree dismissing the bill of review I understand an appeal has been taken to the supreme court of the United States, but the case on the original bill remains here. Since these proceedings the supreme court of the United States being called upon to consider this question in the case of Cardwell vs. The American Bridge company, has decided that language in the act admitting the state of California similar to that used in the act admitting the state of Oregon did not extend to the erection of a bridge in such cases and that if the state authorized the construction of the bridge that was authority sufficient. * * * The petition now presented assumes that under this decision of the supreme court the law has been changed, as [illegible] an act of congress had been passed authorizing the construction of this bridge and therefore the court is asked to modify the injunction [illegible] give leave or permission to proceed in disregard of it.

I have considered the matter carefully and I am unable to see my way clear under any recognized authority or mode of procedure to grant the relief asked. The decree against the bridge [illegible] is a final decree of this court made years ago and it seems to me that the only way in which the question can be brought up is by a proceeding to enforce the injunction. If the petitioners are proper to go on with the erection of the bridge and parties interested in maintaining this decree [desire] to proceed by attachment against them for contempt of the court, will receive notice to be given to the parties and will then proceed to examine into the question as to whether this decree should under the circumstances be enforced. In this investigation two questions will be considered. First, whether the recent decision of the supreme court has superseded the decree and changed the law on this subject, and second, whether this is the bridge referred to, to which the injunction was issued. The bridge which the company now say they propose to construct is one which will cost much more than the bridge of which the construction was enjoined and it is to be much less objectionable as to the width and situation of the draw. I am free to say whatever the language of the decree may be, that I do not consider the injunction [illegible] to be other than a command not to build [illegible] bridge which was then in [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] defendants propose [illegible] The language of the decree [illegible] construed [illegible] the [illegible] It regarded the former bridge as [illegible] and [illegible] as a very unwarrantable structure, but the bridge which it is now proposed to build is [illegible] less obstructive and for all that appears its construction [illegible] no violation of the rule of law upon which the court acted under the theory by which it was originally governed in this case.

The court quoted from the opinions in the cases of the state of Pennsylvania vs the Wheeling Bridge company, 18 How, and Baird's Short Line Railroad company of Blatch, and concluded:

Upon the authority of these two cases it is my opinion that if the law applicable to this matter has been changed, or ascertained to be different from what the court apprehended it to be the question will properly come up on an application to enforce this decree, and, as I have said, the further question will come up as to whether this bridge was the same that was enjoined. I am unable to do more than to dismiss this petition with these suggestions, leaving the parties to bring the matter before the court in the way I have indicated.

THE PRESENT CASE.

In view of the above decision an OREGONIAN reporter yesterday found one of the attorneys in the new suit, and asked him how he expected to maintain a standing of the case in the United States court.

"It is simple enough," was the answer. "A foreign corporation is attempting to injure the property of a citizen of that state, and the amount involved is more than $[illegible]. The case involves the construction of a state statute as to whether the draw 100 feet in width will unnecessarily obstruct navigation. The building of this bridge is in violation of a state statute, because any draw less than 200 feet will be an unnecessary obstruction to navigation. Let me read you what the bridge charter says." And the lawyer took down the session laws of 1878.

"The charter to the bridge company reads * * * Provided that there shall be placed and maintained in said bridge a good and sufficient draw of not less than 100 feet in the clear in width of passage way and so constructed and maintained as not to injuriously impede or obstruct the free navigation of said river, but so as to allow the easy and reasonable passage of vessels through said bridge."

It is understood that Hamilton will not press the question of a preliminary injunction [illegible] because he is not anxious to give bonds, but will let the case come to a final trial. In the meantime the bridge company intend to double their force and have the bridge done before the suit is decided.

One of the stockholders in the Willamette Iron Bridge company remarked yesterday: "The [illegible] street ferry will have a [illegible] trying to [illegible] a corporation. If they can establish that fact [illegible] they are [illegible] in a [illegible] in the United States court."

WANTS DAMAGES FOR A BEATING

The damage suit of Owen Donahue vs P A Spinsley was tried before a jury in state circuit court department No 1 yesterday. This is a story of domestic trouble. Donahue and his wife, Sarah, were divorced, and she engaged in keeping the Eagle hotel at the lower end of town. When the matrimonial bonds were dissolved Mrs Donahue was awarded the care of a minor child, and the father subsequently filed a petition in the state circuit court asking that he have the child, and claiming that the mother was not a proper person to care for it. This case is still pending in department No 2.

The desire of Owen Donahue, to have the child taken from its mother was the occasion of some feeling between them. Spinsley was boarding with Mrs Donahue and naturally had heard something of her domestic troubles. One evening about the beginning of last October, Donahue went to the hotel and engaged in a war of words with Spinsley who knocked Donahue down but [illegible] Spinsley afterward [illegible] against him in Justice [illegible] court for assault and battery on Donahue, pleaded guilty and [illegible] Donahue who was laid up for [illegible] days on [illegible] had Spinsley and [illegible] arrested [illegible] and subsequently brought suit in the state circuit court against Spinsley to recover $[illegible] for the beating received. He was a few days ago allowed to amend the complaint to make it read $[illegible] damages.

This was the case on trial yesterday. The defense of Spinsley was that he only struck Donahue once and that to defend himself and that Donahue was punished later in an altercation with [illegible] Hammond. Evidence was adduced to show that Donahue was seriously hurt, was found lying on the sidewalk and had to be carried home. The case was given to the jury at [illegible] o'clock, with instructions to bring in a sealed verdict. [illegible] Ferrell and A. H. Sears appeared for Donahue and Caples & McKey for Spinsley.

THE STAGE.

THE NEW MARKET.—Last night Katie Putnam favored a well pleased audience with the excellent comedy concert "Little Barefoot," in which the little star appeared in the role of Amry, a pleasant type of the pure natured honest impulsive little waif. In this part Miss Putnam appeared to decided advantage. The fine intelligence of her work, the refinement of her manner and her piquant feminine charm combined with her winning [illegible] makes her one of the most attractive and pleasing of actresses. The cast throughout was remarkably good. The William of Mr Emery was a clever interpretation. Mr Devlin as Jeremy, the silly harmless relative, made an enjoyable [illegible] and Miss Mathias proved a charming Rose. The rest of the support were good in their respective roles. To-night a double bill: Miss Putnam will appear in W. S. Gilbert's successful classic comedy, "Galatea, the Statue Bride," and "Sketch in India." The success the company has achieved in this exquisite satire will no doubt attract a very large audience.

SEAMEN'S FRIEND SOCIETY.

New Chaplain for the Work in Portland—Interesting Notes.

The directors of the Portland Seamen's Friend society met in the parlor of Ladd & Tilton's bank Tuesday at 3:30 P. M., Hon. H. W. Corbett, president, in the chair. Present, W. S. Ladd, W. M. Ladd, J. K. Gill, W. S. Fletcher, E. Quackenbush, and Chaplains R. Gilpin and R. S. Stubbs.

Following the reading of minutes and other details of business the time was largely devoted to arrangements for the chaplain from Liverpool, who arrived here nine days since.

NEW CHAPLAIN OF MARINERS' CHURCH.

Rev. Richard Gilpin, the newly-elected successor to Chaplain Stubbs, arrived in Portland from Liverpool on the 22d inst. This gentleman, for twenty-six years past, has been engaged in Bethel work in England, Ireland and France, among seamen of the merchant and naval service. Alluding to him The Free Church of Scotland Monthly for March, 1886, says: "As in former seasons, the assistance rendered by the Rev. R. Gilpin is beyond all praise. For while it is true that Mr. Gilpin has the peculiar knack of making everything contribute to the furtherance of his own special work (among seamen), to which he is as singularly devoted as he is in a remarkable degree fitted for it. His frank and manly, open manner with the men and his intimate acquaintance with all seafaring people make his advice and assistance invaluable."

Of the correctness of this paragraph practical evidence was given Tuesday in the services jointly conducted by Mr. Gilpin and our old friend Chaplain Stubbs, the general superintendent, who came over from Puget sound to welcome and to induct his successor here.

In the forenoon the new chaplain held his first service in the Bethel, corner of Third and D streets, taking for his text Ex. 3:12, the inspiring words addressed to Moses: "Surely my presence shall go with thee." Quite a good audience, many of them seamen, was present and listened with marked attention to the discourse.

At 3 P. M. Bethel services were held with Capt. Willis of the ship Abeona. This good ship-master during his frequent trips to this port has rendered excellent service and help in the work of the Bethel here and greatly encouraged its chaplain in the past.

About fifty persons were present. A large proportion of them were seamen, and the meeting was one of universal interest.

At 7:30 P. M. another very encouraging meeting was held in the Bethel, where the chaplains united, and everything moved forward encouragingly, and the future prosperity it is believed will be such as the founders of these institutions designed in their establishment.

The missionary labors of Mr. W. S. Fletcher during the past nine months have been greatly blest, and as assistant to Rev. R. Gilpin his services will be invaluable.

The management of the Home under Mr. W. W. Roberts is very satisfactory, and the provisions now made in this city by the Portland Seamen's Friend society for the care and welfare of seamen coming to this port are equal to those found in the larger sea ports of the Atlantic states.

The American Seamen's Friend Society, of New York, continues to manifest its practical interest in the prosperity of Bethel labors in this city and other ports on this Northwest coast, and by the financial aid it affords the good work will be fostered until in the near future. It is hoped, there will be Bethels in Astoria, Tacoma, Seattle and Port Townsend.

THE EAST SIDE.

AT OREGON CITY.

A number of the citizens of East Portland paid Oregon City a visit within the past few days, attracted there by business and pleasure. The C. L. & S. C. at that place will complete their geological readings one week from next Friday, and L. H. Wells of this city has been invited to give a short address upon geological formations in Eastern Oregon on that occasion. The murder case, now on trial, is attracting vast attention, and the court house is thronged as the taking of evidence proceeds. Mr. Haines, of this city, was also in Oregon City arranging to remove his family to a farm which he has purchased, about ten miles from Oregon City.

Y. M. C. A. WRITING AND BOOK-KEEPING.

The class in writing and book-keeping in connection with the East Portland Y. M. C. A. will meet at the rooms of the association, corner Fourth and L streets, to-morrow (Thursday) evening at 7:30 o'clock. Prof. Hecker will be present as instructor.

MITE SOCIETY SOCIAL.

The Mite society social given under the auspices of the Woman's guild of St. David's parish, at the residence of Mrs. Tyler, on Sixth street, last evening, was attended by a large number of friends of the guild and was a most enjoyable affair.

NOTES.

The Women's Guild in connection with St. David's parish, will hold a regular meeting at the church to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. G. W. Cartwright, of Yoncalla, in this state, who has been paying a short visit to relatives and friends in this city, returned to her home yesterday.

Dr. D. M. Eddy received a letter yesterday from Sedan, Kan., containing the news of the death of his father, Warren Eddy, of that place, at the age of 75 years.

The election for chief engineer and assistants of the East Portland fire department will take place on Monday evening next, and the boys are beginning to feel interested in the matter.

Mr. A. J. Washburn, who has been spending a few days visiting at the residence of Mr. John Kenworthy, will return this afternoon to his stock farm at Grass Valley, Wasco county.

The East Portland variety theater, on L street, which was in full blast a month ago, is one of the things of the past. No performances have been given for the past two weeks. Lack of patronage is said to be the cause.

J. M. Robertson, brother of Capt. Robertson of the Stark street ferry, has been appointed a night policeman by the common council, and will go into the service this evening. The appointment is a good one, as Mr. Robertson is strong and fearless, and a perfectly sober man.

POLICE COURT.

In the police court yesterday Jim Cummings and Pat Ryan were arraigned on a charge of vagrancy. Ryan indignantly remarked: "What! vagrancy, and me working all the time!" "Well, what's your plea?" asked the city attorney. "Oh, guilty." Judge Demont—"I can soon dispose of your case, as I have heard a good deal about it; sixty days." Cummings claimed he had only been in town one day and had worked last week at the summit, helping get out some telegraph poles. He promised to go to Oswego and procure some carpenter work if allowed to go and was told to step out. Bohemian Frank was fined $10 for drunkenness and $5 for assault and battery on Lee Goon, a Chinaman. A youth named Barney Gilbert was up for using abusive language at Clay and Third streets early Monday evening. Officer Simmons testified that Gilbert used the worst of language and could be heard three blocks off. The accused said that he and several other boys only called out "rats" and "chestnut" to a policeman. Gilbert was sent below for five days, with the alternative of paying $10 fine. Ah Jim forfeited $40 bail rather than answer to a charge of keeping a gambling house.

Brown's Little Joke.

"Why, Brown, how short your coat is," said Jones one day to his friend Brown, who wittily replied: "Yes; but it will be long enough before I get another." Some men spend so much for medicines that neither heal nor help them, that new clothes is with them like angels' visits—few and far between. Internal fevers, weakness of the lungs, shortness of breath and lingering coughs, soon yield to the magic influence of that royal remedy, Dr. R. V. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery."

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Government bonds were dull and heavy. To-day was another extraordinary day at the stock exchange, transactions running up beyond anything ever known before. There was excitement, and prices rose rapidly in the morning, but the advance culminated shortly after noon, when something very like a stampede occurred. Prices fluctuated violently and transactions were simply enormous. Money was again manipulated up to 10 per cent., and room traders, by raiding every weak point, materially aided the decline. Reading was again the most important on the list, and its sales exceeded Saturday's large total. The street believes that large interests, including London, have been caught short of this stock, and though heavy purchases have been made for both sides' account, it is thought the outstanding short interest is still very large. Other coal stocks, especially Jersey Central, were features of the day. Southwestern stocks, particularly Texas Pacific and Kansas and Texas, attracted much attention, and Western Union was very largely traded in. Union Pacific was the next favorite after Reading, upon rumors from Washington of favorable developments to the company. The opening was strong, prices generally showing advances over last evening's closing figures of from ⅛ to ½ lower. Business was extremely active, but prices sagged off a little in early trading. The entire market, however, soon became strong. A fractional rally was followed by another decided break in the last hour, and the market finally closed on a rally, feverish, excited and irregular. Notwithstanding the large advance for the day up to 1 P. M., in many stocks, not a single one on the active list records a net advance for the entire day.

Mining shares were active and strong. Rappahannock led with sales of 20,000 shares up to 23, Bulwer, $1 75. Consolidated Imperial $1 54, Alice $1 50, Deadwood $3 10.

SHIPPING NOTES.

Br bark Devonby, 853 tons, comes to this port from Australia.

Br bark Nith, 900 tons, takes early berth at Liverpool for this port in Balfour, Guthrie & Co.'s line.

Br bark Cynosure, hence July 9 with wheat, has arrived out in a passage of 143 days.

The Bath, Maine, board of trade held a large meeting Nov. 20 in the interests of shipping. The Times says: "It was an occasion from which benefit to the business of this community it is believed will result, and the board is entitled to credit for conceiving and so successfully carrying out the scheme of thus interesting men of national influence and bringing them here to meet Bath people and to observe Bath's advantages." Addresses were delivered by Senator Frye, Arthur Sewall, Hon. C. A. Boutelle, Wm. Rogers, Representative Dingley and others. Senator Frye showed that this country pays to American vessels $26,000 per year, Great Britain pays her ships about $4,000,000, and France as much. Of $526,000 paid by the United States for carriage of mails, $300,000 went to foreign ships. Bath wants a navy yard, postal subsidies and tonnage bounties. One speaker said the Canadians proposed to have built at Bath a steamer for the Alaska and Puget sound trade.

Rheumatism

According to the best authorities, originates in a morbid condition of the blood. Lactic acid, caused by the decomposition of the gelatinous and albuminous tissues, circulates with the blood and attacks the fibrous tissues, particularly in the joints, and thus causes the local manifestations of the disease. The back and shoulders are the parts usually affected by rheumatism and the joints at the knees, ankles, hips and wrists are sometimes also attacked. Thousands of people have found in Hood's Sarsaparilla a positive and permanent cure for rheumatism. This medicine by its purifying and vitalizing action on the blood, corrects the cause of the disease, and it also gives strength to every function of the body. If you suffer from rheumatism try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

"About a year ago I was pretty well run down, being troubled with rheumatism and indigestion, and my blood being very poor. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and it gave me great relief." [illegible] Lewis, Torrington, Conn.

FEMALE WEAKNESS.

DR. MINTIE'S peculiar treatment of Prolapsus Uteri (falling of the womb), Leucorrhea (whites), and all kindred female troubles, symptoms of which are backache, burning pain on top of the head, feeling of debility, general weakness, lassitude, low spirits, feeling of languor and nervousness, is the most sensible, radical, successful and legitimate known to medical science. No humiliating personal examination necessary, and the disgusting speculum practice, so prevalent in the treatment of these diseases, is entirely done away with, as not only being of no benefit, but positively injurious. This fact has been demonstrated in thousands of cases in San Francisco and surrounding country, which have been permanently cured by DR. MINTIE, after the old speculum plan had failed.

It will cost you nothing to consult the Doctor, and if your case is curable he will frankly tell you, and if not curable, he will not undertake it.

DR. SPINNEY,

THE CELEBRATED SPECIALIST,

ALL CHRONIC, NERVOUS & PRIVATE DISEASES

Such as Lost Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Exhausted Vitality, Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhoea, Prostatorrhea, Impotency, Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Syphilis, Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Lungs, Heart and Stomach; Premature Decline Weakness in Women, and all Functional Derangements that result from youthful follies or excess in later years.

YOUNG MEN

Who may be suffering from the effects of youthful follies or indiscretion will do well to avail themselves of this, the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. DR. SPINNEY will Guarantee to Forfeit $500 for every case of Seminal Weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure.

Middle-aged Men

There are many at the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with too frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight smarting or burning sensation and a weakening of the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examining the urinary deposits a ropy sediment will often be found, and sometimes small particles of albumen will appear, or the color will be of a thin, whitish hue, again changing to a dark and torpid appearance. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is the second stage of seminal weakness. DR. SPINNEY will Guarantee a Perfect Cure in such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs. Address Box 633, Portland, Or.
